

HBTLJ ONLINE PUBLICATION

The Houston Business and Tax Law Journal (“HBTLJ”) is excited to announce the launch of the HBTLJ Online Publication in Fall 2023!

The HBTLJ Online Publication will feature shorter articles (than our print publication) on current events, unresolved matters, and pressing topics in business and tax law. The articles will be posted here on our website and will be shared on our social media accounts.

HBTLJ requests that submissions include/conform to the following:

1. Covering a current topic related to business and tax law;
2. Typed, double-spaced, and 10-15 pages in length;
3. An abstract description of the article and thesis presented;
4. Citations must comply with guidelines established by The Bluebook: A Uniform System of Citation;
5. A contact page containing the author’s name, address, telephone number, and e-mail address; and
6. A curriculum vitae or resume for the author.

If you would like to submit an article for consideration, please email submissions@hbtlj.org with a note specifying that the submission is intended for the HBTLJ Online Publication.
